FRANKFORT, KY., JANUARY 17, 1885.

The brass hammering craze has struck Shelbyville.

There was quite a large crowd at the Depot yesterday morning to meet the Adamless Eden Troupe.

There is such a demand for J. E. M. and Crystal flour that Messrs. Miles & Son have had to put on a new delivery wagon.

Mr. Darsie preaches to-morrow night at 7 o'clock, on "Our Plea," the beginning of a series of sermons on first principles.

The wet weather seems to have washed all the news out of the city. This has been the 'dullest' week for newspaper men we have had for a long time.

Work was resumed on the Government building on Wednesday, the work being done by the day under the supervision of Superintendent Murphy and Foreman Bradley.

Judge G. W. Craddock, of this city, is said by the Courier-Journal's Washington correspondent to be a candidate for Governor of New Mexico under the Cleveland administration.

The rise has come in time to replenish the poor man's woodpile at the foot of the north pier of the St. Clair street bridge. It had been nearer cleared away than at any time for many years.

The old launds on the South Side are undergoing some very much needed repairs. Mr. A. Albrington, the gentleman who now has charge of them, is determined they shall give all the light possible.

Mr. Taylor Collins will, on Tuesday, reopen his meat store on the South Side, and will have on hand on that occasion some of the best beef that has been killed in this section for a long time.

Mr. W. D. Graves, Deputy County Clerk, died yesterday morning at his home in South Frankfort, while the Clerk, Mr. Jas. G. Crockett, has been confined to bed for the past six months, at his sister's in Richmond.

During the last year the indebtedness of the city was reduced $20,000—the amount received from the Water Company for the old water works being used to pay off a portion of the debt—and we would suggest to the City Council the propriety of reducing the city taxes. With business of all kinds dull, money scarce and very little building going on, the laboring man and mechanic can hardly support his family, much less pay a high rate of taxation on his little home.

Last winter the west end of the crossing at the intersection of third and Main streets became badly worn and was repaired by the city, but the work was done in such an artistic manner that the water from the gutter, which before that time ran into a culvert on the east side of Main, now flows over the east half of the crossing, floods Main street and makes the walking miserable. In behalf of the citizens who have to take the middle of the street at that point, for want of a sidewalk, in order to get to their homes, we would respectfully ask the City Council, Street Committee, Street Inspector, or whoever has charge of such matters to have the evil remedied at once.

A Deceived Woman

Is the lady who uses cosmetics, face lotions, white lead, blismuth, powders, arsenic, &c., in the belief of enlivening and beautifying the complexion. It is but temporary and ultimately destroys the skin beyond the power of nature to restore. Stop it! Stop it now and use only Dr. Harter's Skin Tonic, which imparts the vigor and loveliness of youth.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 30, 1884-2m.

It is said the price of sheep is lower now than for fifteen years.

Mr. John Bush, brother of Mrs. Wm. M. Saffell, of this city, died suddenly at his home in Anderson county on Tuesday.

John J. Cieso & Son, Bankers, of New York, made an assignment Thursday. They are the New York, correspondents of the Deposit Bank in this city, but the bank will lose but little by the failure.

Mr. L. F. Compton was so unfortunate as to get the first two fingers of his right hand caught between two of the rollers at his Elkhorn Mills a few days since and had the end of the first mashed off and the second badly bruised.

Prof. Hugh Tracy, the veteran educator, has secured the public school at Felling Rock, Shelby county. Mr. Tracy who is well known to the people of several adjacent counties, assures us that he will be a contributor to our paper.

A series of entertainments were given in this city the first of the week in honor of Mrs. Mary Cronan, of Louisville. On Monday evening at the residence of Mr. D. L. Hilly; on Tuesday evening at Mr. John Haly's and on Wednesday evening at Mr. L. Weitzel's.

Capt. Ben Freeman has secured control of the steamboat Mountain Girl and put her in the Kentucky river trade. She and the Muggle Harper now make regular trips up as far as Monterey, while the Hornet and Sallie J. Cooper run up to this city. So the river seems to be well supplied with boats.

Rare Old Books.

We are indebted to Chas. Alexander, Esq., for the loan of 2 volumes of the Family Magazine, published at Cincinnati in 1834 and 1835. They contain many very interesting historical stories, poems, etc. Some of the earlier efforts of our best literati, Holmes, Bryant, Prentice, C. F. Hoffman, Pundling and others, which appear in these volumes, are not to be found in the later editions of these authors. We notice a piece of music the "Ostrosenka Waltz," composed by Paul Schmidt, and dedicated to Miss A. M. Roberts, of Frankfort, Ky.—Worford Sun.

The author of the music spoken of, Prof. Paul Schmidt, has been dead a number of years, and the young lady to whom it was dedicated is now Mrs. R. Knott, of Louisville, and a grand-mother.

Monte Cristo

The two weeks' engagement of Mr. Stetson's "Monte Cristo" company at the Globe has been very successful, as it deserves to be. We hear a great deal said in these days about the ability of English managers, but I hope Anglomania will not make us indifferent towards unassuming and liberal managers of American birth. Mr. Stetson's company just spoken of, is an example of the legitimate, romantic drama, finely staged and well-acted by all cast for the piece. There is no sign of amateur work here, all the parts being well represented. The cast differs somewhat from that of last Autumn: Mr. Ralph DeLuere plays the part of Sordani first, and shared the honors with Mr. O'Neill the night I saw the play. The Cadrouse of Mr. J. W. Shannon was also highly creditable and Mr. Miller Kent looked and acted well young Albert de Morcerf. Miss Blair was satisfactory as Mercedes, and dressed the role elegantly. The part of Dantes gives a fine opportunity to a good actor from the ever-changing situation in which the hero is placed, and Mr. O'Neill's personation leaves nothing to be desired. The favorite young actor shows himself an artist by his well-regulated force, his thorough refinement, and his intelligent rendering of the pathetic situations of the play, having been twice called before the curtain at the end of the fourth act last night.—Boston Herald, Oct. 4.

BORN.

In this city, on the 27th inst., to Mr. Willis Lee Sullivan and wife, a son.

DIED.

In this county, on Friday, Jan. 10th, 1885, REYN, infant daughter of L. S. and Thie Roberts.

At his late residence in Shelby county, Ky., Dec. 28th, 1884, Mr. ALFRED ROBER, of asthma and brain trouble.

The deceased had been troubled with disease of the heart for years. Early last August he was attacked with what the doctor pronounced asthma and was never well again. After the disease was broken up, his mind became somewhat impaired and he was unable only for a few minutes at a time to attend to his business. Although not at himself he never forgot his God, and would pray to the Lord to remove him from his misery. He would also pray that his children should meet him in that beautiful heavenly land, and would pray for his neighbors and for a world that synch in sin and wickedness.

The deceased was born on the 15th of March, 1846, and had lived until the 15th of March he would have been 39 years old. He joined the Baptist Church at Lebanon, Franklin county, Ky., in the year 1865, and was a faithful disciple of the Cross. He was a quiet, unassuming man, and showed plainly that his mind was not entirely engrossed with this world and its perishable objects, but choosing rather to make preparations for the life eternal. His three children lost an affectionate father, in whom they could rely implicitly, the community a worthy example. The separation, though sorrowful in the extreme, is not eternal; for we are assured that these affections are but for a moment and will work for us a more exalted and eternal weight of glory.

Rev. J. A. Piers, preached the funeral sermon, fourteen chapters of St. John, from which he preached a very impressive sermon, pointing out to his congregation Bro. Rogers as an example, one whose worth will fade away after the resurrection. The body was laid beside that of his living companion, who he preceded by ten years.

To the bereaved ones we say he is not dead but sleeping, the awakening from which will be when the last great trumpet shall sound, when all the redeemed of the Lord will ascend with a shout of joy eternal in the heaven.

Dear father thus has left us, but in eternity we hope to see him in his new garb.

LOSERS paid promptly.

Jan. 27.

A C A R D !

ON THE FIRST DAY OF JANUARY, 1885,

I will adopt a new system in my business, and after that date,

SELL STRICTLY FOR CASH.

The credit plan has been so abused in the past few years that it is no longer to the interest of either the buyer or seller to continue it. Besides its being a constant annoyance to the merchant, it is a very expensive luxury to the cash and prompt paying credit customers, as they have not only to pay a fair profit on all the goods they buy, but an additional profit to make up for money lost on those customers who don't pay at all, and to pay for book-keepers, collectors, and all other expenses of the credit system. In making this change I am sure that it is in the interest of my customers, if not to myself, as I will save them on all future purchases at least 5 to 25 per cent.

Thanking my old friends for their kind support in the past, and hoping to receive their patronage in the future by serving them faithfully, I am

Respectfully,

L. B. MARSHALL,

Successor to Marshall & Meagher.
